

PROTECT KIDS

Help ban bisphenol A (BPA) from baby bottles, sippy cups and infant formula

Where: State Capitol Building, West Steps,
Sacramento, CA Look for the giant baby bottle!

Who: State Senator Fran Pavley, California
moms, kids, breast cancer survivors & concerned citizens.

What: Press conference on the front lawn of the Capitol, followed by a rally and visits to Assembly offices.

Bring your family, kids and everyone to carry the message!

August 26, 2009

10:00 am: Rally & Press Event on Capitol Steps

11:30 am-2:00 pm: Visit your Assembly Member

Help carry the message to our state legislators that it's time to give back to kids this year by protecting them from harmful chemicals.

Bisphenol a (BPA) is a chemical used in many plastic bottles and sippy cups. BPA is linked to early puberty, hyperactivity, childhood obesity and breast cancer.

We need your help to let our state politicians know that they should put the health and future of our children before special interests!

BPA FREE NOW!

